Mark of Hawk-Eye Security Systems Limited

We all fall into the trap of believing that you get the best from well known business.

NOT TRUE

Quite reasonably our insurers required a good level of security at our premises so we had two well known firms to provide the security alarm and carry out security monitoring. However over the years we noticed the lack of maintenance calls from the alarm company and exorbitant additional fees from the monitoring company. Eventually we took a closer look at the service provided and the standard fees we were paying. Needless to say we were being “ripped – off”.

Through BNI we called in Mark of Hawk-Eye Security Systems Limited who pointed out further problems with the service we had received from the alarm company. He fitted a new full system for the equivalent of two years maintenance with the old firm. As a bonus we were able to drop our insurance fees.

The service from Mark was brilliant. After ascertaining our needs he offered three types of alarm system. He then sourced and fitted the chosen system. In addition he provided tuition on the use of the system to all the staff.

This tale has two morals:

1. Don't trust the big boys.
2. Use Mark at Hawk-Eye for your security needs.

Yours faithfully
